"The Upstairs Cat" By Jaimi Ilama

Have you ever been scared to try something new? What happened when you tried it? Write a sentence or two and draw a picture.

I've <sup>or</sup> been scared to try to skip a monkey bar. When I tried I couldn't but then I tried again and I did it but I couldn't skip two so I fell but I kept trying and eventually I could skip two!

If your best friend moved away, would you make new friends? How would you do it? Write a sentence or two and draw a picture.

Yes I would make new friends. I would make new friends by being nice to them and helping them when they hurt and sticking up for them but I would only choose friends who would do something for me.

Would you recommend the book, "The Upstairs Cat" to a friend and why? Write a sentence or two and draw a picture.

I liked this book so I would recommend this book to someone who likes books about pets and if they like books about real life stuff this is a good book for you.

When I was five I was scared to go down the basement in the dark so I tried going down but it was so dark I ran upstairs and then I got a flashlight out of my room so I went back downstairs and got some light so now I always get a flashlight.

If your best friend moved away, would you make new friends? How would you do it? Write a sentence or two and draw a picture.

If I <sup>say</sup> would see someone outside I might <sup>say</sup> are you new here? How old are? What's your name? Do you wanna be friends? If he or she says yes I will play with that person.

Would you recommend the book, "The Upstairs Cat" to a friend and why? Write a sentence or two and draw a picture.

Yes I will because The Upstairs Cat was trying to find the boy that gives care and the cat had a awesome adventure trying to find him but she couldn't.
